

First Frontier Quilters 2012 Challenge: Out of the Box

The rules:

1. At a guild meeting you will randomly choose two crayons from a bag. Committee members will write your colors on an index card for you and on a chart for the guild then toss the crayons back in the bag.
2. You must use those two colors plus black and white or cream and gray to create your quilt.
3. You may use the colors in any proportion you choose.
4. Prints are fine as long as they are composed primarily of one or more of your five challenge colors.
5. Quilts made with kits are not eligible for awards. Commercial patterns, whether stand-alone patterns, from books or from magazines or online, must be changed significantly, and all patterns must be credited on the entry form.
6. You may not enter a quilt that has hung in any other First Frontier Quilters show.
7. Quilters may only enter one quilt per size category (small, medium, and large) but may enter more than one size category.
